Dear Volunteer,

This time of year is an opportunity for you to help provide holiday meals to our clients. Whether you give of your time or money, even the smallest gift can make the biggest difference!

This holiday season please consider helping people in our community like Luciler Mosley. She grew up during turbulent times at the dawn of the 20th century, working in the cotton fields beginning as a child. "I've seen it real rough in my day, but God's seen me to get this far," she said. "It's been a great struggle." Hard work and difficult times were constant companions, but giving up was never an option for her and her family. Though she has weathered more than nine decades, her mind is sharp and her thoughts, clear. At 92 years old, Luciler recalls her life vividly and has many wonderful stories to tell along with the insight that comes with experience.

Luciler is just one of the clients served everyday by you, our caring volunteer. And, so many of the people you serve have similar life stories, and similar needs. These are the kind of people you can help when you give to Meals-on-Wheels. And, you are giving more than help. You're giving hope—hope that people like Ms. Mosley can continue to live at home, maintain their health, and that they can enjoy their remaining months and years without having to worry about where their next meal might come from.

Our clients are the frail and elderly who are a part of America's "Greatest Generation", and something as small as a nutritious meal and a daily visit means independence and freedom for them. Without Meals-on-Wheels, most of them wouldn't be able to live at home—where they want to be!

That is the hope you bring to them through both your financial support, as well as volunteering to deliver meals.

Many thanks to you, and happy holidays!
